Pivot is Live!

Our Grants Lifecycle Management (GLM) project team is pleased to confirm that the first module in this two-year strategic initiative is now live and available to our research community.

Pivot aggregates many thousands of funding opportunities in one user-friendly tool which facilitates identification of relevant funding opportunities, as well as awards, research collaborators, and conferences around the world. It also offers ways to enhance the experience by tailoring your profile, saving searches, and receiving automated alerts about relevant funding sources. Used by leading research universities around the world, Pivot currently offers information on over $115 bn of funding opportunities from domestic and international sources.

How to get started

1. Navigate to https://pivot.proquest.com/dashboard

2. Locate the "Use login from my institution" drop down list
3. Select Tulane University
4. Log in with your ID (without the "@tulane.edu" part)
5. Claim and update your existing personal Pivot profile as directed (most Tulane faculty should see their profile in the system, but you may otherwise create one in the rare instance where necessary)

About the Grants Lifecycle Management Project

The GLM project is a major strategic initiative underway here at Tulane. This will consolidate all research efforts into a new platform. Implemented progressively through 2023, it will provide our researchers and administrators with an end-to-end system which is a modern, efficient, and fully transparent research platform. And it will unify grant administration workflow while improving compliance, efficiency, and reporting. If you would like to reach out to the Tulane GLM project team for general questions, thoughts, or inquiries you can email: GLMinfo@wave.tulane.edu.
